LOWER THROUGH FREIGHT RATES
Administration Cuts Tariffs from Pacific Coast.
Readjustment is Basis for Increase Tuesday.
Schedules Become Effective in Few Weeks.

WASHINGTON, June 21.—Through freight rates from the Pacific Coast to the West, lower than the combination rates heretofore in effect, today were ordered reduced by the Railroad Administration.
The new rates also will apply through shipments from the Pacific Coast and intermediate points to the territory east of the Ohio River and south of the Ohio River, which go into effect next Tuesday. The new schedules will be in effect within a few weeks.
The new adjustment, said the Railroad Administration, will "better enable the shippers to reach the Pacific Coast in competition with the competitors in the territory north of the Ohio River and will also enable the shippers to reach the Pacific Coast in competition with the competitors in the territory south of the Ohio River." The new schedules will be in effect within a few weeks.

GERMAN PAPERS SLAP "WILLY'S" VEROSITY AT BERLIN.
GENEVA, June 21.—Several German newspapers openly attack the speech made by Emperor Wilhelm on the occasion of his anniversary.
The Post of Munich says that the feast could have been celebrated with a measure of ceremony and dignity, instead of with a speech containing words of doubt and gloom. The paper concludes that the Anglo-Saxon races are powerful enough to accept the Emperor's challenge.

ITALIAN ZONE OF WAR, Friday, June 21.—Torrential rains have converted the Piave into a vast rushing cataract, which is sweeping away everything in its course to the lagoons. Our British aviators have wrecked all the seven piers of the bridge on right bank in the town of Montebelluna. The bridge is about ten tons of bombs. Those which Borovick was constructing for moving his heavy artillery across were destroyed by the floods, and also the lighter pontoons so that the feeding of the famished enemy troops across the river is possibly only by resort to airplanes.

WEEKS. AUTOLESS DAY TO SAVE OIL

Government Plans Economy of Petroleum Products

Restrictions in Use of Gasoline to Come First.

Heavy Demand for War to Cause Action.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

WASHINGTON, June 21.—Requa, head of the petroleum division of the United States Fuel Administration, is forming a policy for the conservation of oil, kerosene, lubricants and petroleum products, with a view to preventing a shortage such as that which occurred in the latter part of the war. When the plan is adopted and approved by the Fuel Administrator, it will be put into effect with regulations similar to those now in effect for the sale and distribution of food articles under the United States Food Administration.

Consumers of gasoline, particularly owners of passenger automobiles, are likely to feel the effect of the new regulations. One of the plans now being considered is the rationing of gasoline, which would be distributed to each owner of an "automobile" each week by owners of the same.

NO PENALTY.

No compulsion or penalty for failure to observe the proposed regulations is contemplated unless they are so generally observed as to require restrictive legislation such as now is enforced in France and Germany.

In a statement concerning the conservation program, Requa said:

"With the tremendous needs of the United States and our allies for gasoline and other petroleum products for war purposes, it is absolutely necessary that the government should adopt a conservative and effective conservation program. I am now reviewing such a program in order that it may be put into effect before the shortage of fuel and lubricants shall imperil our cause in the war."

MANY WAR USERS.

The great fleet of airplanes now in the hands of the United States and Germany, the tens of thousands of motor trucks which are essential to our soldiers and sailors, the transports and the marshaling yards which are necessary to the war effort, all are dependent upon the use of gasoline. The demand for gasoline is so rapidly increasing that it is almost impossible even to estimate requirements. One thing is certain: we must be ready to meet the need and in order to be ready we must limit the present consumption.

"We realize that this involves certain hardships, but necessity exists and it will be met. Our aim will be to attain the maximum results with the minimum hardships. I cannot say how our program will be, but it will undoubtedly involve the restriction of gasoline for passenger and touring cars. An automobile owner's suggestion we are considering."

It will be a modest request of the mobile owners and one the majority of Americans would readily accept to.

"I can understand, of course, some auto owners' minds are troubled, but there is no reason for alarm. Our committee is composed of representatives of the automobile industry and I am sure the adopted will be just and fair."

NO DELIVERY LIMIT.

"It is unlikely, of course, that any restriction would be put on the use of fuel or oil for motor delivery wagons and other commercial vehicles so long as they are used for necessary commercial purposes. There might be a restriction placed on taxicabs."

"We are now gathering statistics as to the present production and consumption of petroleum products as the basis for a comparison with the increased government use for the coming year."

figures at hand it will be possible to frame an adequate conservation policy."

Mr. Requa is a practical oil man, having for years been in charge of the petroleum industry in California on a large scale.

He has made a thorough study of it from the point both of production and consumption and is familiar with the problem caused by the increasing needs of the United States and our allies, combined with the war. He has been consulting with the Fuel Administrator, Garfield, concerning the conservation of petroleum and the latter is in hearty agreement with his view that the constructive measures must be taken soon to insure against a shortage.

Mr. Lloyd George replied:

"The government is already engaged in a large-scale offensive against the Central Powers, and it is the duty of the Allies to cooperate with us in this effort."

CHICAGO, June 21.—President Ben Johnson of the American League said today he could not understand Gen. Crowder's statement that baseball was non-productive as the two major leagues, he said, would deliver to the government a war tax reaching nearly $100,000.

"The ball players, umpires, club stockholders, and officials have brought more than $5,000,000 in Liberty Bonds and have subscribed thousands upon thousands of dollars to the Red Cross and other war charities," President Johnson said. SWIMMERS ARE BUSY AT BASE.

The Submarine Base of San Pedro will soon be ready to blossom forth with a swimming team which will be eager to participate in local meets with the best of Southern California swimmers. In accordance with the suggestion of Walter Camp, athletic director for the navy, every man at the submarine station is being taught how to swim, learning the crawl stroke, which has been adopted as "official" in the navy.

"Skyball" Moreno, who is now acting as swimming instructor at the base, is teaching men to swim by suspending them in a harness and lines from the "bridge" which is located near the quarter-deck of the Sub Base. While these novices will probably not be in racing form for this summer's aquatic meets, the Sub Base has a number of men, like Moreno, who are at home in the water.

The War at Home

Sedition is Charged.
Charged with violation of the Espionage Act by expressing a wish that the Germans would kill all Americans and sink every Yankee transport crossing the Atlantic, John Muller, alias Muller, was arrested in 1916 by the United States Marshall Kavanaugh at Santa Barbara.

"Hindenburg will beat him out of the Allies," Muller said. "The French and English soldiers have no culture and therefore are afraid to meet the brave German soldiers. They will kill every damned American who faces them on the west front. The Germans certainly will go over there. To hell with Wilson and Hoover." These were some of the remarks Muller has made since the prisoner.

Movie Studio.
Miss Young Plans Temple of Art. Says Manager Garson at Pasadena.

PASADENA, June 22.—The second act in the Crown City comedy over the advent of the Clara Kimball Young Motion-picture Corporation into the aesthetic atmosphere of this city introduced the proposed dissolution of the city committee because of a postponed fishing trip and the suggestion that the committee be replaced by the auspices of the Merchants' Protective Association. This action was suggested by Joe Walsh, a member of the committee and who besides running a hardware store is a devotee of fishing. Yesterday he called off a trip to the mountains at the suggestion of B. O. Kendall, chairman of the city committee. The meeting of the committee was called off by Mr. Kendall, after it was late for the former to go fishing.

NEW COMMITTEE.
"We have no use for this committee now that the Merchants' Protective Association has taken so strongly in favor of the studio," said Mr. Walsh. "The next time it meets it will be dissolved. I am going to work with the committee and appoint it by the association."

At the last meeting of business interest to consider the project the vote in favor of inviting Miss Young to Pasadena was 17 to 12. The city committee had no report of its work as was expected.

GREAT ORGAN.
"Miss Young does not solicit a studio or the ground on which to build one," said Miss Young, manager of the C. K. Y. Company yesterday. The issue is whether she will accept a title. "I am not sure," she said. "I am not sure."

"The plans to build a temple of art—much an industrial plant—it will be coherent architecturally with the garden spot Pasadena has grown to be. One of the appealing features will be a grand entrance hall leading into a museum room which will house the largest and finest collection of art in the world. The room will be thrown open to the public for recreation. It will be larger than any auditorium now in Pasadena. Such a room would constitute a change in the imposing cathedral we have designed to the great stair forward in the new art."

FREE PACIFIST FROM JAIL TO JOIN ARMY.HAROLD STORREY IS ORDERED TO TRAINING CAMP BY DRAFT BOARD.

Whether or not the saying about leading a mile to water can be applied to a pacifist called to war, is a problem district board No. 8 of Huntington Park will have to decide this morning when Harold H. Storrey, of Christian pacifist fame, is delivered before its members by members of the police war squad.

Storrey, thirty-two years old, Robert W. Storrey, and his brother, Floyd Robert Storrey, have been spending the last few weeks in the East Side Jail, serving a sentence of 180 days and a heavy fine, growing out of their attempts to hold a pacifist convention in Los Angeles last year. Previous to starting to serve the term, Storrey had been ordered by the medical examiner of the board and certified from that district. He is scheduled to leave with other men from district No. 8 this morning.

Yesterday the parole board examined an application made out by Storrey, and acting upon recommendation of Probation Officer J. E. Berry, ordered the pacifist paroled from the East Side Jail. The terms of the parole are that in case the man is not inducted into the United States service, he is to be returned to the East Side Jail.

FARM SECTION IS ENLARGED.

Four More Pages of Rotogravure Added to the Department.

The best and biggest issue of the Farm and Tractor Section comes out with the Los Angeles Sunday Times tomorrow. Don't miss it! Beginning tomorrow, this unique farming publication will regularly contain eight pages of rotogravure illustrations instead of four, as in the past. The "roto" has made such a hit that it simply had to be done.

Did you know there were a number of persons near Los Angeles making a living growing dress plants? Did you ever see a Calendar "farm"? The whole thing is told in text and rotogravure in the Farm and Tractor Section. Imperial Valley's enormous crop of "volunteer" cotton is the subject of an unusually interesting article. Robert W. Hodgson of the County Farm Bureau has an article on tests made with citrus weeds that, with its accompanying "roto" page, should not be missed by horticulturists. There is a great "roto" page, text and pictures, on Sudan grass, the crop that many thoughtful stockmen are counting upon to save the day in the threatened feed shortage, and another on the scientific utilization of the only free power source that is open to the farmer, the winds.

Do you have any real conception of the number of stunts a tractor can do? There is a page of tractors in "roto," all photographed in unusual action. Another "roto" page pictures the newest monster of the bean fields, a mammoth mechanism that is expected to help solve the labor problem. Have you ever worried about the time when there wouldn't be any more gas or grease for your motor car or tractor? There is an article in this splendid number that will reassure you. And say, did you know that Ernest Braunton is now with the Farm and Tractor? That is something all farmers and gardeners will be glad to know.

He is scheduled to leave with other men from district No. 8 this morning.

Yesterday the parole board examined an application made out by Storrey, and acting upon recommendation of Probation Officer J. E. Berry, ordered the pacifist paroled from the East Side Jail. The terms of the parole are that in case the man is not inducted into the United States service, he is to be returned to the East Side Jail.

Whether or not the saying about leading a mile to water can be applied to a pacifist called to war, is a problem district board No. 8 of Huntington Park will have to decide this morning when Harold H. Storrey, of Christian pacifist fame, is delivered before its members by members of the police war squad.

Storrey, thirty-two years old, Robert W. Storrey, and his brother, Floyd Robert Storrey, have been spending the last few weeks in the East Side Jail, serving a sentence of 180 days and a heavy fine, growing out of their attempts to hold a pacifist convention in Los Angeles last year. Previous to starting to serve the term, Storrey had been ordered by the medical examiner of the board and certified from that district. He is scheduled to leave with other men from district No. 8 this morning.

With Dist. Atty. Woolwine, Christian D. Larson, Councilman Trust, who is president of the Federation of Business Men, Charles Whelan, National Vice-President, and Louis Souton, Jr., French Consul General, as the speakers, the Tennessee State Society will unveil a hand-painted flag at a meeting in Pershing Hall, Monday evening. The flag, which was made to honor Tennessee men now in service, will be presented to one of the ships now building at the harbor. Miss Georgia Rowles conceived the idea of making the flag.

The commencement exercises of the Bible Institute of Los Angeles will take place next week. On Tuesday evening the Alumni Association will meet and dine together, and on Thursday evening the class of fifty-seven graduates will receive their diplomas. Special music will be presented by the Institute choir; Dr. William Evans, associate dean, will preside, and the Tennessee State Society will be given by Dr. Lincoln A. Ferris, pastor of the First Methodist Church of San Diego. A number of the who would have graduated were compelled to leave the school to enter the service of their country, or the class would have been considerably larger.

NEW YORK, June 21.—Trading on the stock exchange today was marked by alternate advances and declines, the latter tendency prevailing at the close. Forenoon gains of 1 to 3 points among various speculative issues also experienced a sharp reversal before the close, and standard stocks eased from fractions to 1½ points. No definite explanation for the set-back was forthcoming.

EIGHT ENTER OFFICERS' TRAINING CAMP, BALBOA.

NAVAL TRAINING CAMP (Balboa Park) SAN DIEGO, June 21.—The second officers' training camp for enlisted men of the navy was formally opened this afternoon when eight enlisted men, the pick of the camp, were given their first instruction in the duties of an officer. The course will be an intensive one and is under the direction of Lieut. J. C. Dutton, graduate of Annapolis.

VALLEY OF HEALTH.

Rhye Officials Give Statement Showing Remarkably Low Death Rate. BLYTHE, June 20.—The Palo Verde Valley is apparently one of the healthiest spots in the world, according to official reports just compiled by County Clerk I. R. Logan, Health Officer Dr. W. H. Chapman and City Clerk A. E. Lorton. Their report shows a mortality of less than five per thousand. The mortality of the United States is stated to be something like eighteen per thousand. Oregon, which claims the lowest death rate of any State, has a death rate of eight per thousand. California stands slightly higher, but no town in the United States, or any valley or territory in the Palo Verde Valley can show the record on this report, state the officials. The following figures are given:

SHIPYARD WORKERS RIDE ON BOX CARS.

LOS ANGELES HARBOR, June 21.—Riding on the top of box cars, hanging on the sides and even clinging to the brake beams was the experience of the Southwestern Shipbuilding Company today following an accident to the Salt Lake drawbridge north of Terminal. As the steamer North Fork was passing out of Long Beach Harbor and heading for the entrance to Los Angeles Harbor, the drawbridge came into the trouble approach to the drawbridge and the rails were torn out of line. When the shipyard special arrived this morning at the drawbridge it could not cross and the workers had to travel the remainder of their journey on five box cars and a switch engine.

GIFT OF MRS. ORR.

ALHAMBRA, June 21.—Alhambra Red Cross workers and citizens generally are busily engaged in making preparations for the visit of Gov. Stephens to this city Saturday night on the occasion of the formal opening of the new home of the Red Cross salvage department, recently completed at a cost of about $100,000. The gift to the local chapter of Mrs. William R. Orr, a wealthy and intensely patriotic citizen of Alhambra.

HARBOR LOT VALUES GROW. LOS ANGELES HARBOR, June 21.—An amazing increase in property values in the harbor district in the last ten years was shown here today when Roman Sepulveda refused an offer of $175,000 for five lots at the corner of Sixth and Palms Verdes street which he purchased for $25,000 in 1906.

COLORADO RIVER FLOOD THREATENING IMPERIAL.

IMPERIAL, June 21.—With the receipt of news that an 118,000 foot river was due at Yuma, June 23, and the sending of hundreds of men to the levees, the first line of defense, Imperial Valley's annual fight with the Colorado River is on. The Colorado flood is rising from the Grand Canyon south, swollen by rapidly melting snows in the headwaters of the Green and Grand rivers, the river is now rising at the rate of eighteen inches a day, at the Yuma gauging station. Residents at the low sections of Needles and Yuma are making preparations to meet the flood, placing sand bags and dikes around their houses.

NAME SOUNDS GERMAN; HATES KAISER BILL.

RIVERSIDE, June 21.—Orville Meyerhoffer, head of the Riverside Aircraft School, is out with a statement branding as false the reports that he is friendly to the German cause. They have an anti-German ordinance here, and Meyerhoffer has two dots over it, which makes it pronounced in a way that makes it sound like a German name. Meyerhoffer declares he has been subjected to numerous indignities because of his name, had been charged with being a German and with being unable to talk Swedish. He comes from a family living in Sweden and his father is a parson.

FORMER ALHAMBRA MINISTER IS HERO.

ALHAMBRA, June 21.—Members of the First Baptist Church congregation here have been greatly interested in the report from France that the Rev. John H. Clifford, former pastor of the church, has been mentioned for special heroism under fire. The Rev. Mr. Clifford has been engaged in Y.M.C.A. war work ever since the nation entered the war. He was detailed as stretcher-bearer with the marines at Chateau Thierry. A colonel of the marines was wounded and lying in the front trench. Mr. Clifford pushed a stretcher ahead of him and crawled through a grain field where the colonel lay. An exploding shell knocked the parson senseless for a few minutes, but he recovered sufficiently to get his man and take him to the hospital, where the surgeons declared the colonel would live. The Rev. Mr. Clifford is 55 years of age and a graduate of Oxford. The oldest of his two sons is in the National Army.

HARBOR LOT VALUES GROW. LOS ANGELES HARBOR, June 21.—An amazing increase in property values in the harbor district in the last ten years was shown here today when Roman Sepulveda refused an offer of $175,000 for five lots at the corner of Sixth and Palms Verdes street which he purchased for $25,000 in 1906.

COLORADO RIVER FLOOD THREATENING IMPERIAL.

IMPERIAL, June 21.—With the receipt of news that an 118,000 foot river was due at Yuma, June 23, and the sending of hundreds of men to the levees, the first line of defense, Imperial Valley's annual fight with the Colorado River is on. The Colorado flood is rising from the Grand Canyon south, swollen by rapidly melting snows in the headwaters of the Green and Grand rivers, the river is now rising at the rate of eighteen inches a day, at the Yuma gauging station. Residents at the low sections of Needles and Yuma are making preparations to meet the flood, placing sand bags and dikes around their houses.

NAME SOUNDS GERMAN; HATES KAISER BILL.

RIVERSIDE, June 21.—Orville Meyerhoffer, head of the Riverside Aircraft School, is out with a statement branding as false the reports that he is friendly to the German cause. They have an anti-German ordinance here, and Meyerhoffer has two dots over it, which makes it pronounced in a way that makes it sound like a German name. Meyerhoffer declares he has been subjected to numerous indignities because of his name, had been charged with being a German and with being unable to talk Swedish. He comes from a family living in Sweden and his father is a parson.

FORMER ALHAMBRA MINISTER IS HERO.

ALHAMBRA, June 21.—Members of the First Baptist Church congregation here have been greatly interested in the report from France that the Rev. John H. Clifford, former pastor of the church, has been mentioned for special heroism under fire. The Rev. Mr. Clifford has been engaged in Y.M.C.A. war work ever since the nation entered the war. He was detailed as stretcher-bearer with the marines at Chateau Thierry. A colonel of the marines was wounded and lying in the front trench. Mr. Clifford pushed a stretcher ahead of him and crawled through a grain field where the colonel lay. An exploding shell knocked the parson senseless for a few minutes, but he recovered sufficiently to get his man and take him to the hospital, where the surgeons declared the colonel would live. The Rev. Mr. Clifford is 55 years of age and a graduate of Oxford. The oldest of his two sons is in the National Army.

UP TO YOU TO KEEP US FIT!

Corp. De Varilla Tells Need of War Hospitals.

Man Who Fired Our First Shot Describes Horrors.

Medical Relief Campaign is on with a Rush.

"When an American boy gets in a tight place in the trenches over there," he looks at the picture of his mother, wife or sweetheart that he invariably carries with him, and then at the devastation, the destruction, and outrage all around him, and then he resolves that the two shall never meet over here," thus Corporal Osborn de Varilla, the first American to fire a shot into Hun trenches after the entrance of the United States into the war, last evening at the banquet which marked the opening of the American Women's Hospital Society's $100,000 fund drive at the Alexandria, and was attended by about 200 prominent citizens and notable medical women.

"Every time that we have been against the Germans we have been beaten," Corp. De Varilla continued. "It was done under terrible hardships. In the first line we could get no water. It was pitiful to see our men, then, save half of their coffee to wash, have and even try to bathe in it. You could only see the young women prisoners, aged by the weight of their burdens, reeking with filth imposed upon them by the Germans. If you could have seen our comrades, a boy named Buckling, who when captured by the Germans refused to give them information, was strangled with a piece of barbed wire and thrown to the side of the road with his tongue out and that young American nurse, a nurse officer, the first to be captured by the Hun, who was given a 'death chair' as the Germans call it, on the ears, and infected with the vilest of diseases. These boys are giving up their lives for you, and it is up to you to keep them fit."

In speaking of the first maneuvers of the American forces in France, the corporal said that after two months in a training camp, they were given gas masks and sent to Alsace-Lorraine.

"Here were the atrocities. A young woman showed me the blood-stained handkerchief which her baby had been crushed by a Hun officer. We saw hundreds like that. There wasn't a man fighting who wasn't glad to get a crack at the enemy."

"On October 11 we got our first taste of real-life trench life. I felt sick and my knees shook when I heard the first German bomb whizz over my head. When we were ordered to get the guns in position we found the ground very rough and pitted with shell-holes. It took four hours to haul a gun three-quarters of a mile. But the next morning we found the range of Fritz's kitchen and warmed their coffee to the boiling point."

"I have seen hundreds of men come out of the trenches, muddy, tired, tattered. But never were they dirty they ever went in them. They will get along. All France is behind them. Do your part over here and back them up!"

Corp. De Varilla urged strongly the necessity of the doctors' aid abroad, and in addition, Dr. Margaret Welpton, national secretary of

MANY ALIEN WOMEN HERE.

Registration Shows that the Police Estimate may be Doubled.

The female of the species so far as the German alien enemy brand is concerned, is at least more numerous than the male, according to the announcement made by officers handling the registration at the Los Angeles police stations. The number of women expected to register will probably be double that at first anticipated, Sergt. Slaughter, head of the War Squad, said yesterday. "We not only will run out of blanks, but will not be able to complete the registration this week, and may be forced to extend the registration into another week," he stated.

From the amount of registrations now on hand, and the rate at which they are coming in, the police expect to have nearer to 1000 German alien females registered, instead of about 500 as at first expected.

The American Women's Hospital, told of the inception of the plan for the formal organization of the women of this country. The society, she said, has been approved by the American Red Cross, Surgeon-General Clegg, and additional war bodies, and that by placing women doctors in the field, additional male surgeons can be released for service in the trench dressing stations, the place where they are most needed. The women doctors, she stated, are not recognized by the government, receiving no rank. But that she said, will in no way deter their work.

The meeting was presided over by Michael J. Shannon, of the local draft advisory board. With him at the speakers' table were the following, who delivered addresses on the necessity for the furtherance of the work: Dr. Rita Gray, California State chairman of the organization; Dr. J. Whitcomb Bronger, Dr. George Davidson, Dr. Herbert Booth Smith, Lieut. Henry of the Officers' Reserve Training Station at San Pedro; Judge Paul J. MacCorrick, Frank Keenan and Sergt. Frank D. Dewar, Corp. De Varilla, companion, who gave a stirring speech on the women's status in "Blitzkrieg," as England is termed.

A benefit performance, in behalf of the hospital society, is to be held this evening at the Majestic Theater. The programme will include Wallace Reed, Theodore Roberts, George Mollot, Dorothy Phillips, Charles Murray, Maude Ryan, Private Jack Lingwood and others. The benefit is sponsored by the local society of Eagles.

Also, a garden party benefit will be held Thursday at the home of Dr. Rita Gray, 113 South Avenue 64.

FURNISH STAMP HERE.
ELYSEE, June 21.—Headed by Mayor C. S. Reynolds and a committee of loyal towns folk, every child above the age of seven in the Palo Verde Valley is working on sale of war stamps, and it is said the valley will go far over the top, the money of the Liberty Bonds which were subscribed in the hour, is stimulating the sale of the stamps. Patriotic mass meetings are being held daily on the streets, and a door-to-door canvass is proving most effective.

RAISE NEEDED, SHOUP ASSERTS.

Pacific Electric President on the Witness Stand.

Tells Commissioner Road is Heavily in Debt.

Higher Fares Less than the Operating Increase.

As the last witness in the rate-increase hearing of the Pacific Electric Before State Railroad Commissioner Loveland, yesterday, President Shoup went on the stand in defense of the proposed increase of passenger rates by his company. We are not asking this increase because of the increased value of our property. We have a bond debt of over $15,000,000, and in addition to this we have the stockholders, over $9,000,000. Neither are we taking into consideration the Pacific Electric Land Company, which has control of several rights-of-way representing an investment of $1,000,000.

"We feel that we should at least start the interest on our bond debt. Since the Southern Pacific has been taken over by the government, all its revenues are turned into the Federal treasury and the Pacific Electric must stand on its own feet. It seems proper that at this time it should not be necessary to call on the stockholders for more working capital. The Pacific Electric does not contemplate any extension at this time or in the very near future. If it is necessary that we have to pave some streets we should have some surplus capital to do so. It is absolutely necessary, however, that we at least pay the interest on our debt."

"While the proposed increase which we ask averages about 18 per cent, on paper, yet it has been proven that in operation this will not return over 10 per cent increase in our revenues."

President Shoup then stated that the increased operating cost would be more than the increased revenue within the next twelve months. In doing, President Shoup said in figuring the proposed increase rates on the different lines they had endeavored as far as possible to equalize the burden. "This is a great emergency with us," he added. An adjournment was then taken to July 11.

ASK BIDS ON JAM.

Bids are wanted by the government on assorted jam in cans of twenty-five ounces and samples are requested. Bids are to be opened next Thursday. Further information can be obtained from the Messing and Manufacturers' Association, No. 123 Wilcox Building.

LEASES HARBOR CANNERY SITE.

Council Grants Man an Acre for Construction of Fish Plant.

A lease upon an acre of harbor land was given yesterday by the Council to J. F. Chaney, who proposes to build a fish cannery upon the site. The lease covers a period of thirty years. Councilman Mallard opposed the transaction, as he has opposed all other harbor leases.

I'S KILLED ON FRENCH FRONT.

Brother Notified of Former Angeleno Engineer's Death in Action.

Ben H. Scott, an insurance man residing at No. 5407 Eighth avenue, received a telegram from the War Department yesterday advising him of the death in action on June 12, of his brother, Sergt. Elsie E. Scott, of the Engineers. Sergt. Scott enlisted in El Paso soon after we declared war and had been in France about eight months. He formerly resided here for a short time. Besides the brother here, he leaves three other brothers, three sisters and a father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Scott, of Holden, Mo. One of the other brothers, Ernest, is serving with the marines in France.

GRAND JURY LOOKS INTO LYLE CASE.

CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSIONER IS ONE OF WITNESSES BEFORE BODY.

Mrs. B. L. Goodpastor, the mother of Samuel Lyle, the youth who pleaded guilty to grand larceny in Superior Judge Willis's court last week, and her close personal friend, Mrs. Annie Harris Cooper, No. 450 North Broadway street, were witnesses before the grand jury yesterday. Lyle was before Justice Summerfield about three weeks ago, charged with the stealing of a 1915 Liberty Bond, but was acquitted as there was no way of identifying the bond. Charles F. Burger, a member of the County Civil Service Commission, has taken a great deal of interest in the boy at various times. W. J. Clarke, Deputy District Attorney, who cross-examined Mr. Burger on the occasion of the hearing in the Justice court, assisted Ewald Selph, who has charge of the county grand jury, yesterday.

The session of the grand jury will be resumed Monday, when other witnesses including several officers in the Justice court, and the juvenile court, will probably be heard in the Lyle case. The investigating body yesterday returned an indictment against Charles Anderson, charged with the murder of William MacKendrick, in this city, May 31. The report was made to Superior Judge Willis.

SEND MONEY TO FRANCE.

Los Angeles High School Raises Nearly Three Thousand for Ambulance and Orphan.

The Los Angeles High School at the closing of the school term yesterday sent a check for $2750 to the French government. Of this amount, $1600 will be used for a Red Cross Ambulance and $1150 was given to the French orphans. The fund was raised by the student body of the school by giving entertainments and carnivals. The faculty members of the institution gave $400 toward the French war orphans' fund, raising the rest among themselves by giving benefit social gatherings.

LOVE FLIES AS RICHES COME.

Chemist-Inventor Sued for Separate Support.

Wife Says She did Washing to Give Him Start.

Deserted then for Another Woman, She Avers.

A story with a human interest thread running through it, is told in separate maintenance complaint filed yesterday by Theresa Skalla against Charles N. Skalla, chemist and inventor. The story harks back to a small town in Bohemia, where Theresa and Charles were childhood sweethearts. Ambition stirred in the girl as she grew to young womanhood. She determined to come to America. She came to Chicago, to Charles, it was the parting of two young uneducated persons, content with the humble things of life. Theresa reached Chicago and became a laundress. She saved out of money to pay for her trip to Chicago, and on his arrival there, she bought his wedding outfit and paid the first installment on the household furniture. Charles got work as a laborer at $9 a week.

Mrs. Skalla states that out of her earnings as a laundress, her husband studied chemistry, paying $200 for tuition. He advanced rapidly and through his inventions and raptures or his patents, he became wealthy.

With prosperity came trouble. While the Skallas were living in Milwaukee, they engaged Emma Drost as a maid. Mrs. Skalla says that Mr. Skalla became enamored of her. He left Milwaukee in her company, taking the household furniture, and in March, 1917, came to Los Angeles, where he leased the residence at No. 1739 West Forty-ninth street, being known as Harry Smith and it is alleged, Emma Drost as Mrs. Harry Smith. The following September Mrs. Skalla alleged that she and her husband had a child was born to the couple.

It is alleged that Charles, the eldest son, was surreptitiously removed from the home of his mother and placed in the California Military Academy. Mrs. Skalla also alleges that by promise of an automobile and other toys, the boy is being gradually seduced from his mother's community property and an order restraining Mr. Skalla from harassing her.

Because of the hard work she did as a laundress, Mrs. Skalla states that she was not able to educate herself in the same manner that her husband did. She asserts that he is now trying to get rid of her by threats.

NO TRACE OF BANDITS.

Police Fail to Find Robbers in Automobile with Badly Worn Tires.

The several clues sent in to the police yesterday in connection with the bold daylight hold-up of J. W. Costello, manager of the Pacific Baking Company, Thursday afternoon at Washington and National streets, failed to bring the detectives any nearer the solution of the daring robbery which netted the three bandits $2518 in cash and checks. The detectives working on the case were forced to admit yesterday that they were baffled by the lack of any definite clues from which to form a theory as to the identity or whereabouts of the three youthful bandits. Several women who witnessed the hold-up and noticed the bandit car as it lay in wait for its victim, were taken to the headquarters and there interviewed by Capt. Home. They are positive they will be able to identify the men, but other than that they were unable to shed any additional light to the mystery.

MAY FORFEIT BOND.

Federal Judge Moves to Order Sureties Put Up by Livingston Given to Government.

Federal Judge Trippett yesterday issued an order to show cause, returnable next Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock, authorizing the surety company to submit reasons why the $10,000 bond issued in the name of Ben Livingston should not be forfeited. Livingston and two sisters were arrested on Federal indictments charging conspiracy to conceal the whereabouts of their parents, Simon and Martha Livingston, and their brother, Robert Bear Livingston, who had been previously indicted and charged with making false affidavits with the idea of saving Robert from the draft.

The Livingstons formerly owned a shoe store on Broadway. Federal officers were unable to locate them with warrants for their arrest. They are believed to have gone to San Salvador.

ALLEGES ATTACK ON WOMAN AN ACCIDENT.

Marie Couvey, who charges that Alfonso Ponnett knocked her down and kicked her, resulting in a broken leg, and demands $10,461 damages, is now said by Mr. Ponnett in an answer filed to have interfered with Mr. Ponnett during an altercation with neighbor, and fell in the excitement. Mr. Ponnett denies that he attacked her. He alleges she scratched his neck and struck him. The altercation is said to have occurred after Mr. Ponnett charged a neighbor with being a pro-German.
